Testing

Mississippi is tentatively scheduled to open for 2018 tax year testing in conjunction with the IRS in November 2018. Software Developers may submit test returns through 2019 until the IRS MeF test system shuts down. Mississippi will not assist with reject code analysis testing or approve any vendor for tax year 2018 after May 31, 2019. Mississippi will not accept any new initial tests after January 1, 2019.

Returns transmitted for testing must always be identified with the social security numbers provided for each test return scenario in this package:

- Resident and Part-Year/Non-Resident (500-00-4246 through 500-00-4259)
- Fiduciary (00-0000350 through 00-0000354)
- Additional conditions: Dependents and Debtors (400-00-4642 through 400-00-4652)

Test returns can be transmitted as many times as needed using only the designated test social security numbers provided by Mississippi above. The entire set of test returns must be submitted together and acknowledged as accepted before final approval. When submitting the test returns, the following is required:

- A limitation report explaining what fields and/or tests that are not supported by your software. This will prevent unnecessary rejections.
- The software ID listed in your LOI must match the software ID tag in the XML of each test submission sent. Any submission that does not match the software ID from your LOI will be rejected.

Acknowledgments will be sent to the Fed/State Acknowledgment System for both testing and production. All rejections must be corrected before a reply comparison will be done on subsequent transmissions. After you have transmitted the entire test package error free and submitted all required paper documents for approval, contact the e-File Help Desk. Do not transmit any production returns until you have received final approval.

Mississippi reserves the right to suspend testing any time for good cause. Reasons for suspension include lack of progress in testing, failure to comply with instructions and continued failure to meet state specifications and requirements.

Mississippi Acknowledgments

- Accepted – This acknowledgment indicates the electronic return was received and successfully completed the pre-entry validation process. No further action is required.
- Accepted with Alert - This acknowledgment indicates the electronic return was received, accepted and pre-entry validation process completed. No further action is required.
- Rejected – This acknowledgment indicates the electronic return was received but failed to complete the pre-entry validation process (it failed a schema requirement or any of the business rules) and the transmitter receives an acknowledgement from Mississippi with error code(s) and description(s). The error condition must be corrected and the return can then be re-transmitted.
